

Comprehensive Community Planning Useful Resources

A number of useful planning tools and resources have been developed by Indian and Northern Affairs Canada (INAC) with First Nations and other partners to facilitate community-based planning.

Handbooks and tools

CCP Handbook: Comprehensive Community Planning for First Nations in BC (INAC, 2006)

- Step-by-step descriptions of the entire planning process, as well as valuable lessons learned by BC communities who have tested various approaches to developing and implementing a community plan. The handbook also contains a selection of CCP tools to help you get started.

Available at: <http://www.aadnc-aandc.gc.ca/eng/1100100021972>

Comprehensive Community Planning Toolkit -- Resources (INAC, 2006)*

- Extensive list of national community planning resources and tools.

First Nations Community Planning Workbook (Dalhousie University, 2003)

- Provides useful planning tools that can be used to support the community planning process.

Available at: <http://ceu.architectureandplanning.dal.ca/publications.php>

Reports produced by INAC

CCP Evaluation Workshop Report (January 2006)*

- This report provides updates on each pilot project, including descriptions of individual project approaches, achievements, challenges, recommendations and lessons learned to date.

CCP Strategy National Engagement Session Workshop Summary Report (October 2005)

- This report provides a summary of the national engagement meeting, and a synopsis of the outcomes that arose from the discussions at the meeting.

Available at: <http://www.aadnc-aandc.gc.ca/eng/1100100022098>

CCP Lessons Learned and Networking Workshop Report (April 2005)

- The report is the initial review of the experiences of the five First Nations pilot project. The report contains a summary of lessons learned and best practices for doing CCP.

Available at: <http://www.aadnc-aandc.gc.ca/eng/1100100022110>

First Nations Community Planning Focus Group Proceedings Report (March 2004)

- In addition to a series of recommendations, the report contains information on available community planning resources (education programs, publications and organizations).

Available at: <http://www.aadnc-aandc.gc.ca/eng/1100100022113>

Comprehensive Community Planning – Experiences in First Nations, Inuit and Northern Communities (INAC/CMHC/PWGSC, 2004)

- Includes community planning experiences of three BC First Nations.

Available at: <http://publications.gc.ca/site/eng/247232/publication.html>

First Nations Stories: Building Sustainable Communities in BC (INAC 2004)

- Experiences of 10 BC First Nations working to build sustainable communities.

Available at: <http://www.aadnc-aandc.gc.ca/eng/1100100022116>